Our applications are built on the robust and proven LAMP (Linux, Apache, MySQL, PHP) Stack which provides your business a centralized & easy to deploy platform for your end users while lowering cost with free & open software.

With the advent of affordable and widely available Internet access, the world has slowly but surely moved into a web driven era. Anywhere, anytime access via mobile internet devices to your company's software and data is now a crucial aspect of doing business. We help businesses to stay competitive by supplementing traditional desktop software with a key focus on making company staff location independent, reducing time to make business decisions and enhancing customer self-service.
